People of the COE

YLR Social Studies students attended the Law Related Education (LRE) professional development presented by Jan Miller, Janie Worst, and Dodie Kasper of the State Bar of Texas on September 22nd and 23rd.

"We realize that student teaching is the most important time in the career of a teacher, and we want to help them have a good start. We teach about the rule of law by using primary documents and literature. Literature is important in teaching social studies, so we provide materials for student teachers to begin building their libraries." - Jan Miller

SOTL Professors Drs. Jaime Coyne, Susan Harte, and Kathy Wisenbaker helped facilitate the event.

5 in 10 Inclusive Dialogue Book Series

For COE Faculty, Staff & Graduate Students

Last year, the College of Education and the College of Criminal Justice began the Diversity Education Engagement Development & Support (DEEDS) Certificate Program by inviting faculty, staff, graduate students, and guests from other institutions to lead workshops on topics that are often not discussed. This 5 in 10 Inclusive Dialogue series is a continuation of that conversation in the College of Education.

This new 5 in 10 Inclusive Dialogue series includes a list of books that you may have seen on the banned books list or debated in the media as too political to use as part of K-12 school curricula. Let's have this open and honest conversation during our upcoming series in the spring. For additional information contact Dr. Benita Brooks

Volunteer presenters will receive a copy of book they sign up to present.

By signing up, you are agreeing to present the book at the designated time/date via Zoom.
