

The Bachelor Of Science In Integrated Studies

Welcome to the integrated studies program!
This innovative degree is becoming one of the fastest growing programs at Sam Houston State University.

This degree is one that the student designs.
Along with the state-mandated core curriculum, students choose three (3) minors and complete the required advanced coursework.

The Bachelor of Science in integrated studies program prepares students to approach academic and professional goals by integrating scholarly areas. Integrated studies majors develop a sense of their educational and life goals through a self-designed university program. This program serves the needs of students who want to tailor or create a unique academic program that stands out to admissions committees and employers.
