SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR JOURNAL MODEL

- A journal model manuscript should contain 3 or more journal articles. If it does not, then the document should be formatted as a regular thesis or dissertation.
- First chapter contains an Introduction discussing all research presented in the document, including: Literature Review, Study Area, and Literature Cited.
- Each article appears in its own chapter and may have its own List of References.
- Last chapter is a Summary or Conclusion of all research.
- A comprehensive listing of all references appears in a Reference/Bibliography/Works Cited section

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR CREATIVE WORK

- First chapter contains an Introduction to the document with a review of the literature or critical essay unifying the presentation and sets the tone of the work. The introduction should provide the rationale for the acceptance of a Creative Thesis. A list of references may appear either directly after this section or at the end of the document before any Appendices or the Vita.
- Is divided into Chapters. Same guidelines for chapters apply to creative works (i.e. CHAPTER VI).
- Last chapter is a Summary or Conclusion of all research. Chapters are optional.
- A comprehensive listing of all references appears in a Reference/Bibliography section. If no sources are referenced in the Creative section, then a list of references at the end of the Introduction section is sufficient.
